

Craig Byrkit
Vice President, Global Information Security and Privacy Officer

Craig Byrkit is Vice President, Global Information Security and Privacy Officer for RGAX, the transformation engine of Reinsurance Group of America, Incorporated (RGA). Craig is responsible for cybersecurity and data privacy guidance across all RGAX-related business functions around the world.

Before joining RGAX, Craig built and led the Edward Jones Information Systems Threat, Vulnerability, Cyber Risk and Privacy areas encompassing network security, vulnerability management, cyber risk, governance, privacy, and incident response. Prior to that, Craig successfully served for 16 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which included the development of the St. Louis FBI Cyber Task Force. He currently leads the Chief Information Security Officer (CISO) board in St. Louis and is a member of the Saint Louis University Workforce Center, Computer and Security Advisory Board. In addition, Craig is one of the founding members of, and adjunct professor for, the Master of Cybersecurity Management program at Washington University in St. Louis.